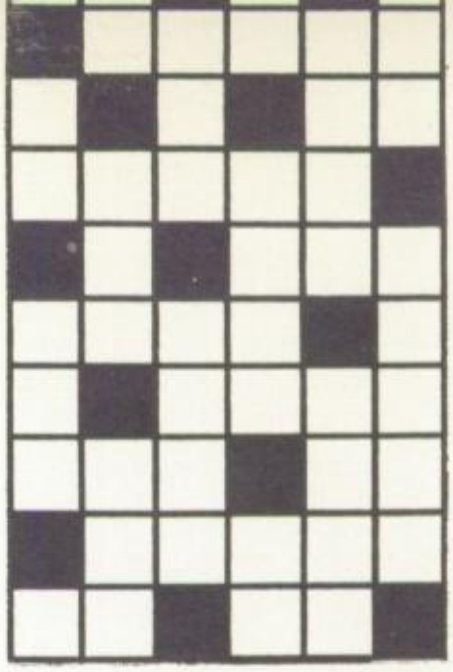
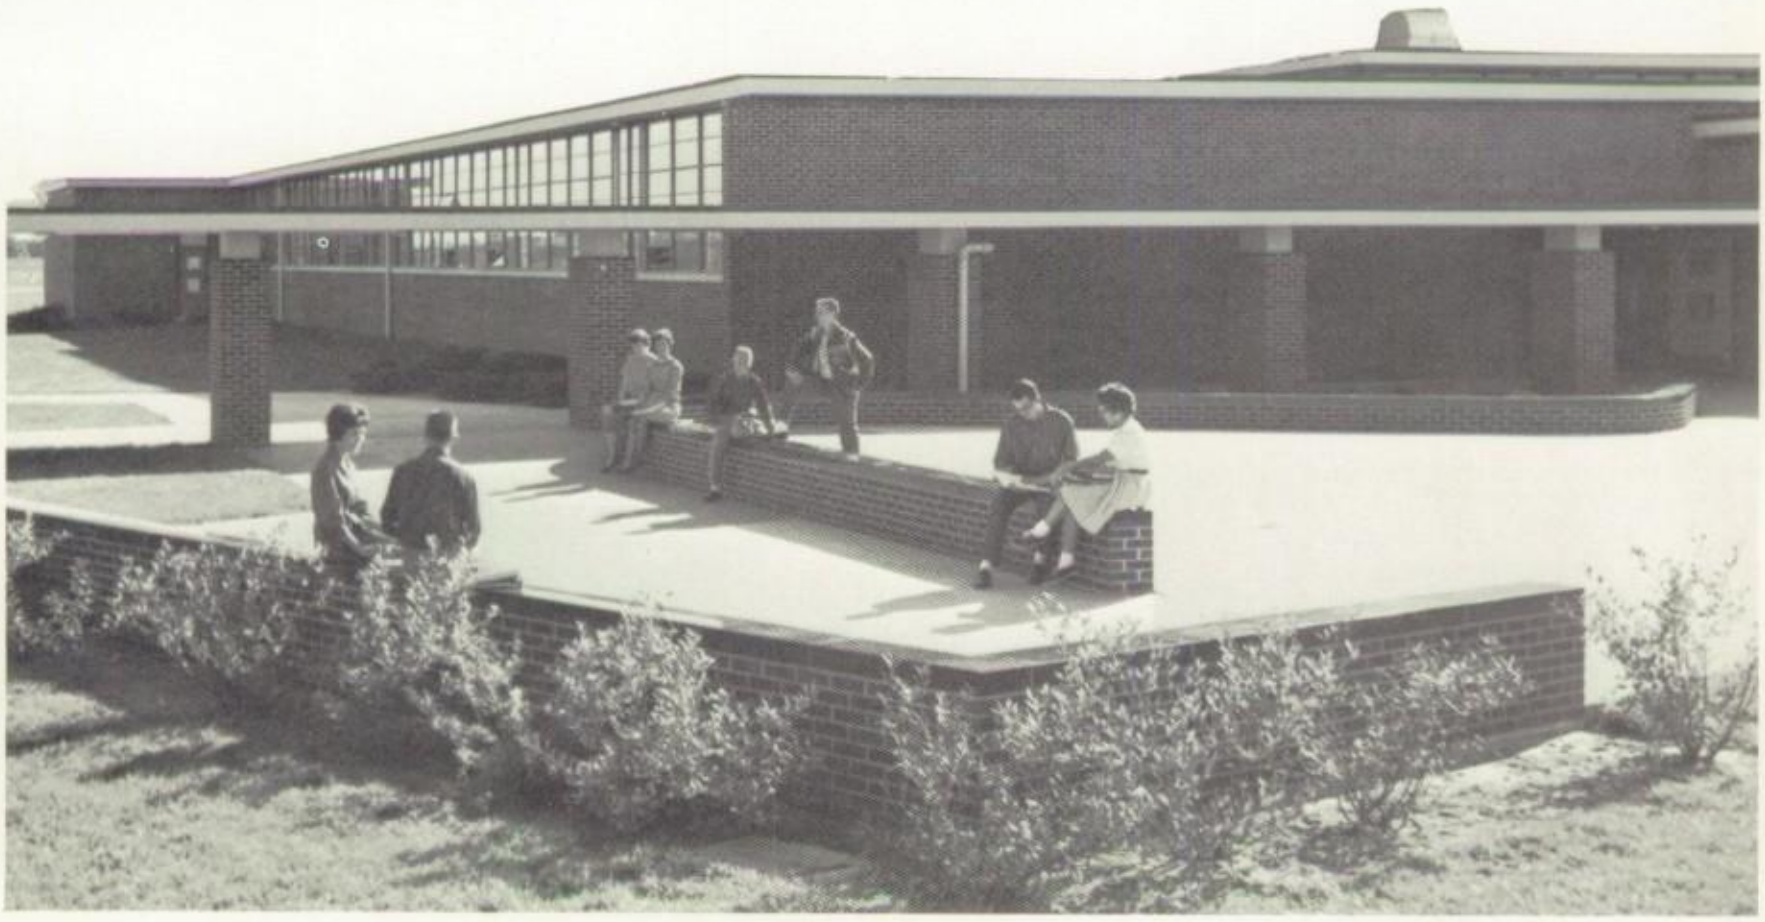
Tina,



THE 1962 SABRE

Wichita High School South



Tina L. Carr

South's 1961-62 enrollment reached a peak of 1,600 students. Consistent, regular growth in housing, industry, and recreational facilities of the area indicates that the enrollment will jump to 2,100 in the next few years.

A total of 24.74 acres, at a cost of $71,536.92, was added to South's grounds in anticipation of the increase in number of students. These extra acres provide space for a variety of activities in the athletic department, and create a possibility of future city league track and football usage.

The areas of Wichita near South have expanded rapidly, too. Steady construction of homes, churches, schools, and shopping centers causes a monthly change of landscape. Shopping centers like Westway provide convenience for modern-minded Wichitans.

A mild population explosion in this area of town has made it necessary to enlarge Kelly and Rea Woodman Elementary schools, which are under construction.

New paving on arterial streets like Seneca, and completion of the new 81 by-pass have reduced traffic problems and have brought more people into "Coloneland." When Pawnee bridge is completed, the traffic flow will be even smoother.

Wichita's favorable geographic location has led to steady expansion of the city. Moderate climate and available labor supply also attract new people and new industry.

More than 700 firms in the metropolis produce a variety of products ranging from heavy machinery to complex medicines.

Faith in the future is being demonstrated by Wichitans through their interest in annexation, urban renewal, and city government.

COMMUNITY

The community around South includes many business and recreational facilities. Centers make shopping handy and quick for on-the-go Wichitans, and businesses provide quality merchandise, furnish employment, and add utility and convenience to the community. Sociable Colonels especially patronize the many eating establishments near South High.

Recreation centers of all kinds lend enjoyment and relaxation to the fun-loving Colonels. Bowling, in and out-of-door movie theaters, roller rinks, and parks are conveniently located throughout the area to serve the people.

WEIGHING and marking produce, Ken Cornell learns merchandising while working in a new super-market.

SCHOOL

Flood Halls With Laughter,

DAILY RUSH at the end of the school day takes only a few minutes to empty South's halls.

"TOGETHERNESS" describes the main thoroughfare during the five minutes of in-between-class traffic.

Anticipate Another Day

South, a $3.8 million, one level, ultra modern plant, is the daytime home of 1,600 Colonels. The school building includes over 226,200 square feet of class rooms designed and constructed on 5.2 acres of land. The entire facility covers over 50 acres of land. Class rooms of South are zoned so that all subjects of one type are together. Halls and entryways are carefully designed to eliminate "bottlenecks" in between-class traffic.

Besides basic academic courses in English, science, and mathematics, South offers four languages, plus world literature and more advanced English courses in the language arts department; the fine arts department includes courses in music, dramatics, and art; the business department offers courses such as typing, bookkeeping, office practice, and business communications; the home economics department offers classes in clothing, tailoring, and foods; the social science department includes classes like psychology, and American history; electricity, and auto mechanics are a few of the many courses offered in the industrial arts department; and the physical education department includes activities such as gymnastics, wrestling, swimming, hockey and modern dance.

Use of the modern I.B.M. machine aids the office staff in such work as classification and tabulating students' schedules.

GOODIES from the cafeteria steam table are in prospect for these hungry Colonels.

HOMEWARD BOUND students dominate the parking lot scene at 3:30.

Administrators - - -

Fulfill Today, Plan Tomorrow

Citizens of Wichita elect the twelve Board of Education members to their non-paying, time consuming jobs. The board controls school policies, administers funds, and guides the educational progress of the massive Wichita school system.

As a professional educator and superintendent of Wichita's school system, Dr. Lawrence Shepoiser makes recommendations to the board and puts into effect its policies. Basic rules and plans of all Wichita public schools are carefully evaluated by Dr. Shepoiser and the board members.

Administration of the policies at South lies in the capable hands of three men: Dr. Ralph Pyles, principal; Mr. Victor Jantzen, vice principal; and Dr. George Lauterbach, assistant principal. Activities are directed around the purpose of South High, as stated in the "South Policies." Ideally, they are to provide learning experiences that enable the student to reach the utmost of his capacity, and to be more responsible and effective physically, morally, socially, and economically.

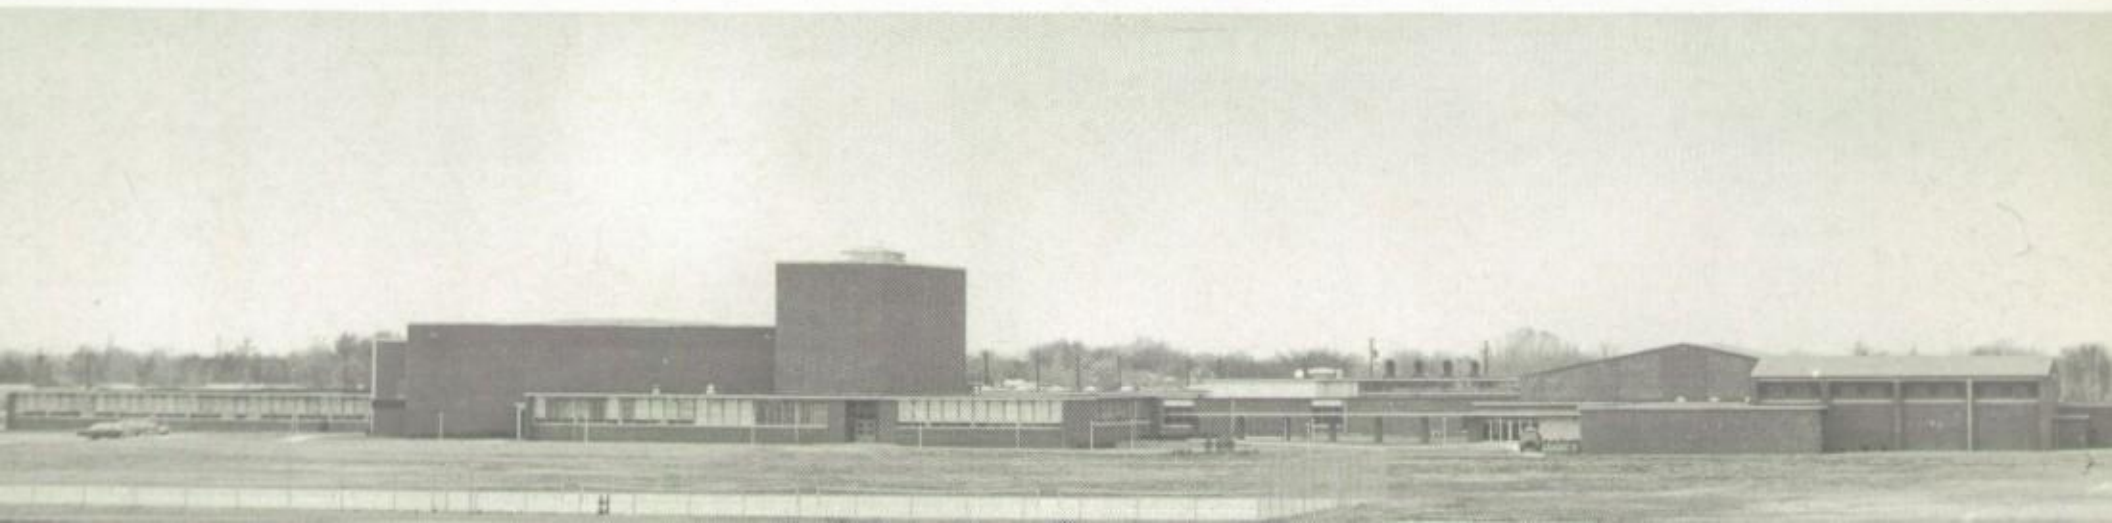
VIEWING South from the new Highway 81 overpass minimizes the many feet of halls and classrooms that require cleaning.



Tempting whiffs of delicate, fresh-popped corn, after-school chatter and bustle of sign-posting workers, and persistent date-reminders over the inter-com bulletin gave constant assurance to Colonels that all was well around the Plantation.

In three years, South High students have become a lively, cooperative, friendly unit, working and playing together to fulfill their need for learning and recreation. Through individual efforts and group activity, they prove to themselves and the community that South occupies a vital spot on the Wichita map.

Clubs worked overtime on such service projects as giving aid and comfort to needy families, improving relations between the city high schools, and contributing time and money to fundraising agencies.

Because of its size, beauty, and superior facilities, South has been chosen more and more often as location for south-central Kansas conventions and meetings. Classrooms, auditorium, and hallways abounded with warm Southern hospitality when journalists, debaters, and wrestlers gathered there during the school term.

Class assemblies, school plays, and after-school sports brought students together in friendly rivalry and achievement. Music groups and debaters traveled around town entertaining other schools and service clubs with their talents.

Bouffant hair arrangements and the "Twist" made the year a memorable one. Enthusiastic, loyal graduates returned in October for a sentimental journey through familiar halls, and joined with the student body in paying homage to Homecoming king and queen. Sadie Hawkins dance, with its corny costumes and turnabout dates, moved the Plantation into the middle of hillbilly country. Never-to-be-forgotten proms transported dancers into a world of beauty and rhythm, while kings, queens, and royal attendants reigned graciously.

Hectic, happy, fun-filled days made the 1961-62 Southern scene special and unforgettable.

(Right) PEP ASSEMBLIES encouraged students to attend games and cooperate to support their teams.

GROWING IN ACTIVITIES

South's Busy Schedule

Includes Assemblies, Dances, Get Togethers

Homecoming

Royalty Charms Rebs

SMILING Queen Bobbie rides off the field, chauffeurred by her father.

ARRIVAL of the queen at the dance prompted applause from her subjects.

"FOOTBALL FOLLIES" comes to a happy climax as Queen Bobbie Sue Caffrey and King Mike MacMurray dance.

LETTERMEN'S club president, John Morton, seals with a kiss the coronation of Queen Bobbie. (Right) After King Mike's crowning, he was favored with a royal kiss.

FINDING the body in her living room gives cause for piercing screams by Nell.

DISAPPEARANCE of her shower curtains is subject of conversation between Nell (Sharon Owens) and Elliot (Bill Burford).

The Gazebo

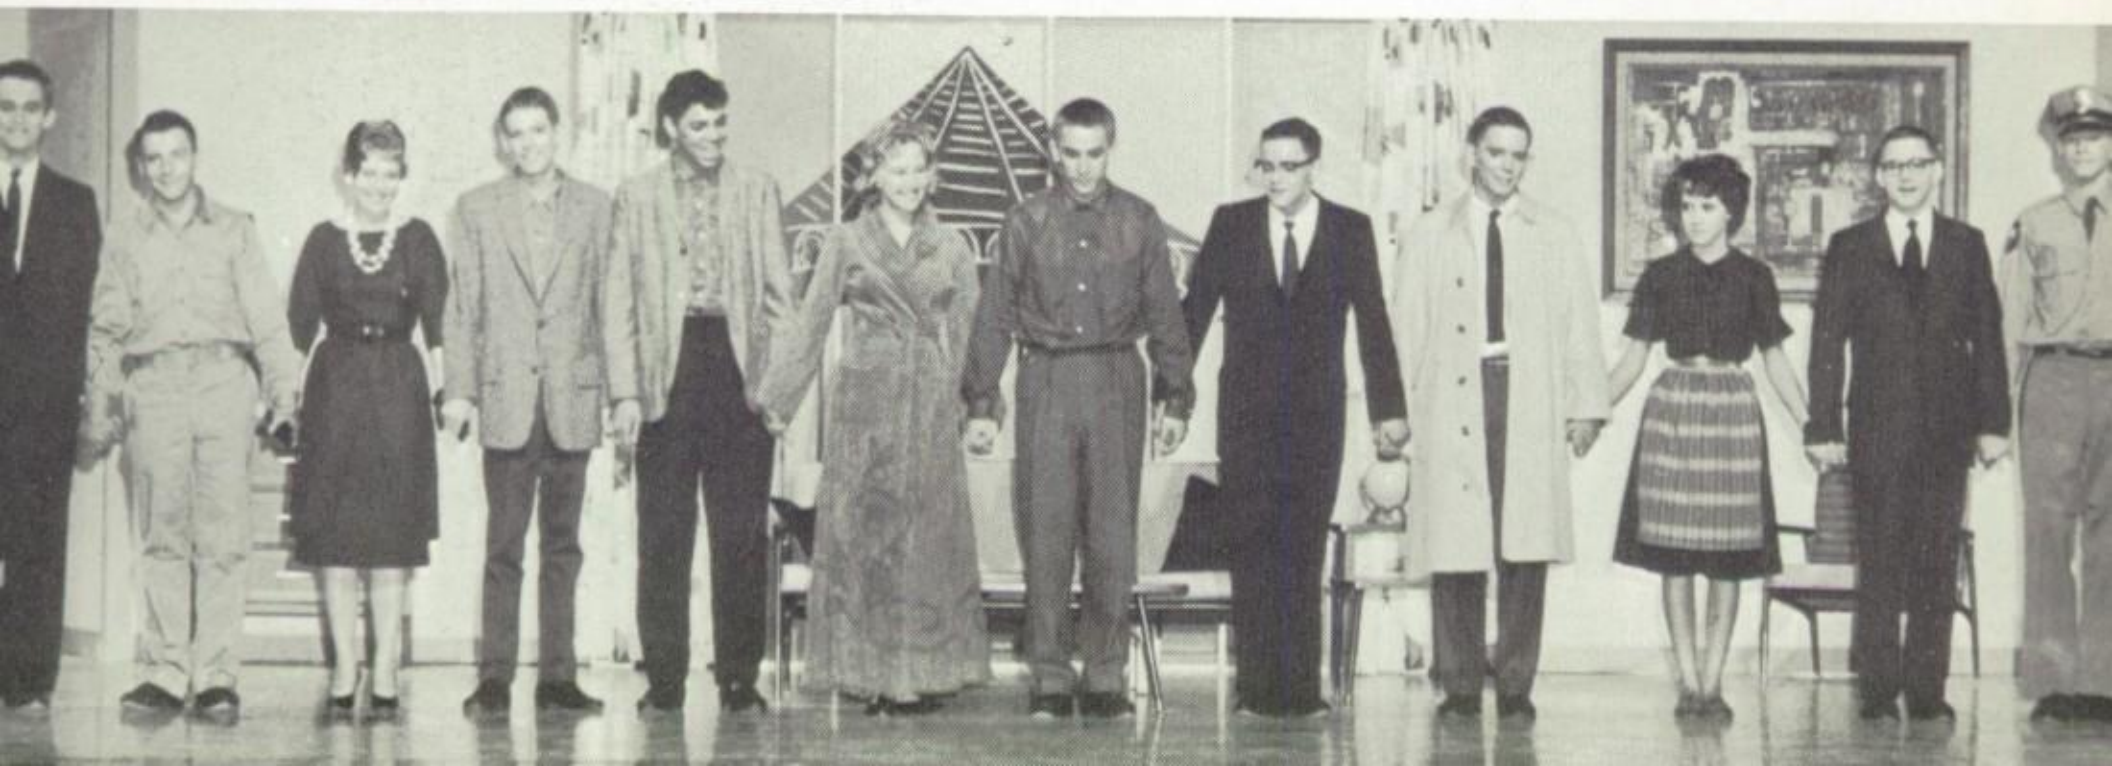
Brings Thrills, Chills, Laughter

Mystery and comedy combined to make "The Gazebo" one of the exciting events of the year. The all-school play was directed by Miss Phyllis Gould. Elliot Nash, a T.V. playwriter, plotted to murder a man who was blackmailing his wife, Nell. The problems he encountered in solving the murder and proving his innocence added to the hilarity of the situation. Elliot Nash was portrayed by Bill Burford. His wife, a typical actress, was played by Sharon Owens. Supporting members of the cast were Rex Stronger as Harlow Edison, district attorney; Tom Hall as Jenkins, a detective assigned to the murder case; Roger McClure as Dr. Wyner, a police surgeon and the corpse.

Paul Rutledge played Driker, an upcoming, enthusiastic detective, Ronald Williams was Potts, a policeman. John Conyers and Thurman Bibb portrayed Dook and Louie, sophisticated crooks. Janet Neagle portrayed Matilda, the Nash's maid. Sonya Silknitter played Mrs. Chandler, a business woman. Jack Ridley portrayed Mr. Thorpe, a constructor.

"AH, LET ME work him over!" Louie pleads with the Dook in an attempt to discover what he did with the body.

GAZEBO CAST: Roger McClure, Jack Ridley, Sonya Silknitter, John Conyers, Thurman Bibb, Sharon Owens, Bill Burford, Rex Stronger, Tom Hall, Janet Neagle, Paul Rutledge, and Ronald Williams.



Exchange Student

Enjoys Southern Hospitality

Memorable day of the school year was the arrival of Gerd Koehler, German exchange student from Ulm, Germany. Arrangements for the exchange, including a money-raising International Folk Festival and home-away-from-home with parents of Gary Ruedebusch, were made by Mr. Dieter Daub, German teacher. The exchange became a fine experience in international understanding for South High students.

HAPPY about the whole affair, Gerd leaves the airport with Gary, Pen-pal Julie Pinkerton, Joann, and Mrs. B. A. Ruedebusch.

GREETED by enthusiastic Colonels, Gerd and Mr. Dieter Daub walk toward the cheering crowd.

SCHEDULE planning posed problems for Gerd and Dr. Ralph Pyles.

SANTA CLAUS proved the center attraction for these girls in "Jingle Bells": standing: Martha Stockton, Freda Gladhill, Shirley Ghramm, Janisue Rigel; sitting: Loretta Brobst, Marceline Riggs as Santa, and Sharon Roberts.

Modern Dancers

Create "Visions of Christmas"

Modern Dancers cooperated to produce their second annual show, "Visions of Christmas." One hundred and fifty girls participated in the nineteen dances, which were divided into children's, festive, and religious categories of Christmas. The entire cast joined in "Happy Holiday" for the finale.

Miss Beverly Ball and Miss Lola Havercroft directed the program. Accompanists were Mrs. Grace Clutter, pianist, and Joyce Stahl, organist.

COORDINATION and grace characterize these girls who, within their individual groups, created all the original dances for "Visions of Christmas." They also planned color schemes and designed their own costumes.

Junior-Senior Prom

Adds to Memories

"Exotic Ecstasy" was the theme of the Junior-Senior rom held February 3 at the Civic Playhouse. Blue and old trimmings, angel hair clouds, moons and stars, dec- rated the ballroom.

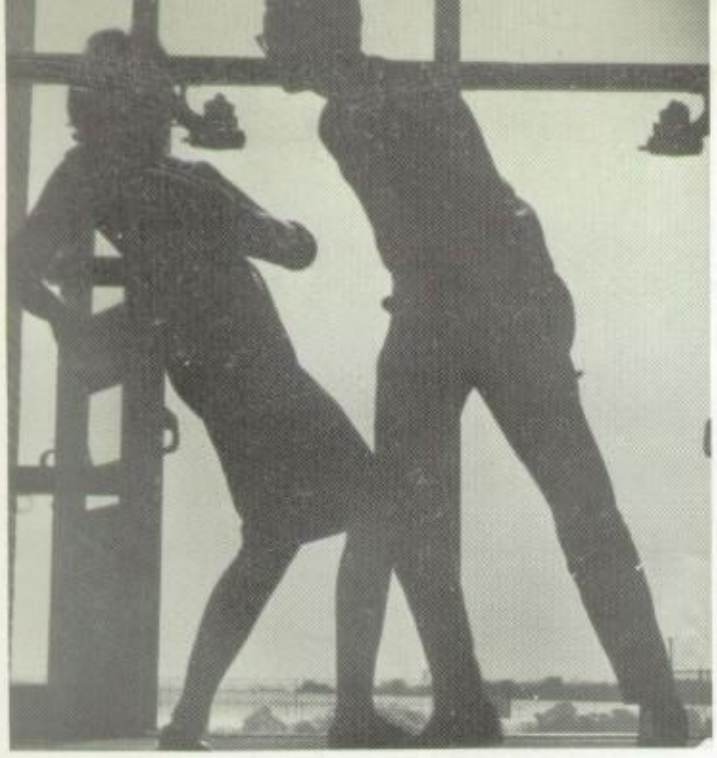
Various colored spotlights focused on the dance floor lso enhanced the scene.

Music was provided by the Thundermen, who played a ariety of tunes including the "Twist."

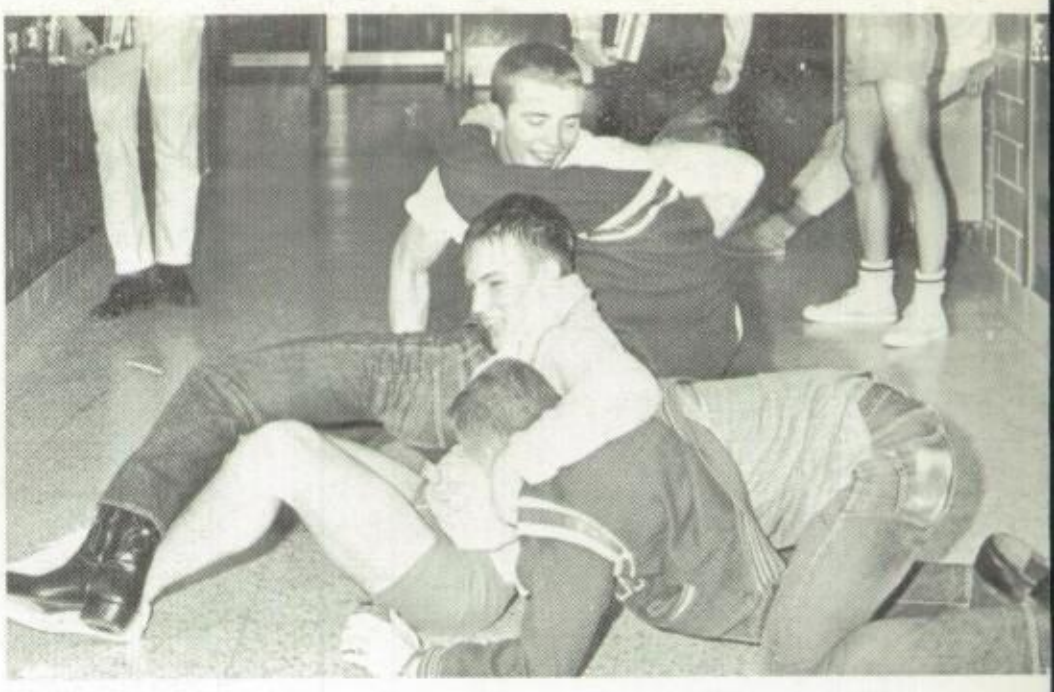
RESENTATION of crowns is made by Brian Pontius, junior boys' ice president, with the assistance of Ginny McIntire, crown bearer.

CORONATION ceremonies completed, King Odus and Queen Mary Jean lead their subjects in dancing.

ROYAL KISS starts the reign of Queen Mary Jean and King Odus during "Exotic Ecstasy."



"COME on let's 'twist.'" (Terri Morris and John Morton)



GRAPPLERS Kenny Potts and Dan Meador take on unprepared bystanders Keith Rucas and Bruce Pitts, in after-school workouts.

Rebels

Take Time Out for Fun

LOST puppy eagerly accepts food from Bill Burford during its brief stay in C13.

"WELCOME to the plantation!" Phil Schepis and Mike Foster inspect a strange visitor.

"HEAR! Hear!" Judy Boyce applauds some rousing words of Sonya Wright.

"YEAR of the big snow" describes 1961-1962 school year.

RINGING Southeast's victory bell becomes a half-time prank for mischievous Colonels.

WAITING at the airport for Gerd Koehler's arrival, Kathie Laurie, Sonya Silknitter, and Jackie Storer visit the control tower.

Poll for "the Plantation"

JOURNALISM conference causes extra work for Dean Stewart and Tom Hall.

ARRANGING their bouffant hairdos requires extra time at the mirror for Suzanne Herrington and Kathy Woodward.

RAIN-SOAKED cheerleaders Mary Lou Pond and Beverly Richardson concentrate on the game.

TEMPTING Colonels to plan a career in the armed services, U.S. Air Force Skybolt was open for examination in the parking lot.

Receive Awards, Entertainment

RULES regarding Sadie Hawkins Week present problems for Colonels.

READING paid off for Pat McKean, winner of first scholarship awarded to a South High student this year by Friends University.

RECOGNITION for loyalty and participation is given Doug Barron, Danny Gifford, Terry Mosteller (Mr. Pep), Beverly Jones (Miss Pep), Javene Moore, and Linda Avery during final pep assembly.

TROPHIES and awards earned at the BECK Convention in Emporia, Kan., are admired by John Tucker, Carolyn Jones, James Wright, Ginny Carter, Larry Brazell, Miss Louise Keller, and Miss Mary Lou Conyers.

ASSEMBLY period brings varied entertainment to Coloneland inhabitants John Stork, Kathy McTaggart, Renna Johnson, Sharon Lindsey, Carolyn Torrance, Mary Sinclair, Connie Bruns, and Don McLean.

JUNIORS demonstrate talent and enthusiasm throughout their "twisting" assembly.

CLASSROOM concentration carries over into a competitive game of croquet for John Morton, Terri Morris, and Kathy Ferguson.

GETTING the "feel" of the mortar board, Joyce McDonald, Sam Jordan, John Morton, and Davena Rigel anticipate graduation.

SPEED and accuracy improve with use of the new Ball Boy; purchased by the Tennis Club. Larry James, Geraldine and Maxine Brock, Paula Peck, Jim Miller, Mr. James McDowell, sponsor, and Phyllis Denny take turns.

PERSONALIZED song by Sharon Owens pleases Dan Meador at the football banquet.

Student Government

Sets Standards

Student Government representatives made special efforts to build school tradition, spirit, reputation, and student benefits.

They supported Save the Children Federation Drive and collected five bags of clothing under the direction of Gary Ruedebusch. Early in the fall, Sonya Silknitter was in charge of the election of sophomore officers.

The year s main project was selling Colonel statuettes to raise money for a school gift. School activities were posted weekly on the office feltboard by Mike MacMurray. Representatives also petitioned the Board of Education for speakers in the auditorium balcony.

At the end of the year, representatives took a poll of opinions on assemblies. Results were given to as assembly committee for use in deciding next year's assemblies.

Sabre Staff

Records History

Groundwork for the SABRE was laid at the yearbook workshop held in June at Kansas State University in Manhattan, when the co-editors studied yearbook production during a week of intensive instruction with other editors. The National Journalism Convention held in Chicago during Thanksgiving vacation also helped to make the assembling of names, pictures and information easier.

The staff recalls a rush of ominous deadlines, the freezing temperatures in C-10 in wintry Saturday afternoons, and the tantalizing odor of carry-out hamburgers gobbled during a pause in the weekend work. It was fun, and, we hope, worth all the effort.

Special thanks go to Mr. Ralf Graham, former journalism teacher, who gave his time and guidance to the planning of the 1962 SABRE.

The Southerner Staff

Has Nose for News

Fledgling newspapermen find the atmosphere of hustle and bustle in C10 a change from the quiet concentration of conventional classes. They plan page layouts, check proofs, struggle through features, write news stories, count headlines, arrange interviews—all to the tune of clicking typewriters and a ringing telephone.

All effort seems worthwhile, however, when THE SOUTHERNER is delivered on Thursdays, and students, faculty members, parents, and advertisers are again brought up to date concerning happenings in and around South High.

Projects undertaken to help support the paper included assembling and printing the DIXIE DIALER, sale of photographs, after school food and candy sales, and program sales.

INVALUABLE information may be obtained from files of exchange papers and past issues of "The Southerner." Judith Cowdrey and Nancy Boman stop to read as they put shelves in order.

Vocal Musicians

Sing for School and Community

South's singers, under the direction of Miss Christa Fisher, entertained parents and friends at their Fall and Winter Concerts. Vocal music groups were in charge of the Christmas and Easter assemblies and Vesper Services. They were also responsible for music at the Baccalaureate Service, and for part of the graduation music. Besides putting on several complete assemblies, music students found time to help the drama department with several assemblies.

There were five singing groups. The eighty-voice choir sang for the Kiwanis Club father-daughter luncheon in February, and for several intermediate school assemblies. All members of the choir enjoyed their annual choir trip in the spring. The Girls' Chorus and Girls' Glee Club participated in several concerts and assemblies. The two vocal ensembles performed numerous times for civic and church organizations. Both Musettes and Southern Belles competed in the music contests this spring. South's singers also took part in the all-city Music Festival in May.

Band, Orchestra

Add Pomp and Pleasure to Colonel Affairs

Making impressive music was the outstanding achievement of the instrumental music department under the direction of Mr. Wynne Harrell. Throughout this eventful year the bands, orchestra, and other musical groups played not only for numerous school functions, but also for many service and church groups in the community.

Highlights of school presentations were fall, winter, and spring concerts, an assembly, and special arrangements for graduation. The Marching Band entertained enthusiastic gamegoers during four football half-times, while Pep Band kept school spirit at a high pitch with school songs and sound effects during pep assemblies and eight basketball games.

Six ensembles including clarinet quartet, flute trio, trombone quartet, French horn quartet, brass quartet, and brass sextet also entertained at various community functions during the year, and entered spring music contests.

LISTENING with a critical ear, Mr. Wynne Harrell directs an orchestra rehearsal.

Y-Teens

Delight in Sharing

Service activities for the year were focused upon Elsie Hiner, polio victim and member of the senior class. Y-Teens made regular calls at her home to keep her in touch with school life, cheered her with cards and other remembrances, and held a special Christmas party in her honor.

Two slumber parties were held at the downtown YWCA, where the girls took over full facilities. They swam, worked out on the trampoline, participated in various games including badminton and volleyball. Necessary equipment included corn poppers for supplying refreshments, and bed rolls for the final brief rest of the night.

Policies and projects for the group were planned by the officers and an eleven-member council. Sponsors Mrs. Martha Maloney, Mrs. Dorothy Cook, Mrs. Helen Funk, and Mrs. Doris Wright assisted.

HAPPY, satisfying moment is enjoyed by Sherri Scott, Vicki Hein, and Kathy Ferguson at Elsie Hiner's Christmas Party.

Bible Club

Attains Christian Goals

Emphasis upon spiritual values and Christian fellowship marked this year's procedures in Bible Club.

Two quiz teams participated in Youth for Christ rallies on Saturday nights, and members attended the all-city Funspirations held at the West Side National Guard Armory.

Ideals of living were discussed by Mr. Jim Smith, executive director of Y.F.C., and Mr. Harv Smucker from the Hutchinson group. Mr. Floyd Hanson sponsored the 132-member club.

Hi-Y

Sets Sights High

Youth in Government held at the State House in Topeka, Kansas, was attended by members of Hi-Y. Boys from all sections of the state were elected to government offices for one day, and received on-the-job experience in performing government functions.

Motto of the club is "Clean speech, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living." Active participation in the YMCA basketball league afforded opportunities to carry out this motto. Sponsors were Mr. John Snodgrass and Mr. Gerald Morrison.

Senate Club
Strengthens Reasoning

Current topics of interest were debated by the Senators. Open discussions were held on controversial subjects from disarmament to urban renewal. Participation in the club helped its members express themselves in words, and encouraged sound reasoning.

Business Club
Hears About Local Firms

Business Experience Day was the main activity of the year. This day was set aside for members to spend at the office of their choice. At the meetings, representatives from local firms informed members about local business functions.

Art Club
Introduces Colonel Statuettes

Films and lectures were chief points of many Art Club meetings. Members hung paintings in South's halls, and co-operated with student government in making ceramic colonel figures. The club's activities also included taking an art trip to Kansas University.

Ruth Arterburn served as president; Gail Moses, vice president; Danny Clark, treasurer; and Joey Shriver, secretary. Mr. Charles Sanderson and Mrs. Kay Sanchez were sponsors.

Square Dance Club
Dubbed "Swingin' Rebels"

Square Dance club began their meetings by discussing business matters and then practicing new formations to Mr. Kenneth Coy's calls. Tuesday evenings Mr. Bill Newton called as the group met for an hour and a half in the cafeteria. The dancers blew balloons and strung crepe-paper in A-2 for their January party.

German Club

Fosters International Friendships

Lively conversation conducted primarily in a foreign tongue made German Club meetings informative and interesting for this active group. Outside speakers included exchange students from Southeast High School, who gave first-hand accounts of life and customs in Germany. Letters from pen pals were read and discussed.

Vocal accomplishments transplanted a little of the "old country" for members when they entertained the community with carols during the Christmas season.

Through the efforts of the club and its sponsor, Mr. Deiter Daub, South High was privileged to instigate an exchange student program. Gerd Koehler's arrival and presence in South's halls and classrooms added excitement to the year. Funds to finance this exchange came from the International Folk Festival, a program of folk dances, songs, and skits presented by first, second, and third year language classes.

French Club

Finds Beauty in Language

Discovering beauty in the French language and culture occupied French Club. Reports by members included such subjects as architecture, customs, and political matters, all spoken in French.

Mr. Don Weddle, art instructor, described and evaluated French art. Members planned a party around a typical French holiday. Cooperating with other language clubs, French club helped with the International Folk Festival.

Spanish Club, Future Teachers

Stress Importance of Knowledge

Meetings of Spanish Club featured viewing Spanish films, practice in speaking the language, and study of customs of the country. After-school ice cream and candy sales propped the treasury, the Tiajuana jail represented them at the Mardi Gras, and a spring trip to Manhattan enabled members to visit the Kansas State campus.

Interest in the field of teaching as a career motivates members of Future Teachers of America. During open house and the classroom teachers convention of February 8-10, this busy club hosted visitors to the building.

Experience and a better view of teaching as a career were gained during second semester, when members participated in student teaching as observers at Sim Elementary, Enterprise School, and South High. Field trips to various colleges and universities broadened their views about future responsibilities.

Future Medical Careers Club

Donates Assistance

Exploration of possibilities in the field of medicine absorbed members of Future Medical Careers Club. Meetings were enlivened by guest speakers including Miss Zana Higgs, senior in the K.U. Medical Center Nurses Training School; and Mrs. Eva Arwood, Wesley Hospital. Films describing areas covered by medical careers also entertained members.

Gifts were collected and donated to the school children's eye glass fund. Wichita-Sedgwick County Mental Health Society also received help from the club.

Safety Club

Participates in Convention

Awareness of the importance of safety in the home and school was stressed at Safety Club meetings.

Members helped with the problem of safety in the school parking lot by checking cars and tagging those which were carelessly or illegally parked.

Clubs around the area cooperated by sending queen candidates to a state convention in Manhattan, Kansas. The girls qualified by writing and giving a speech before those judges chosen from the local area.

Tennis Club, Aviation Club

Combine Recreation with Learning

Enthusiasm and energy sparked the affairs of Tennis Club. Parties were held in the gym and swimming pool and club tournaments kept fun and competition at a high pitch. Projects promoted interest in the game of tennis and provided instruction for beginners.

Fly-in breakfast and pre-flight ground school highlighted activities of Aviation Club. After completion of pre-flight school, those who wished could take the FAA test. This year the top three scorers were given flights in a plane owned jointly by four Colonel faculty members.

Sales in January and February helped to supply funds for new equipment for the club. An 8' x 8' map board, Jepson computors, J-Aid Navigation subscription, and a tower radio frequency received were purchased this year. Eight new flight records were also added to the growing collection.

Radio Club
Converses in Code

Amateur operators, and ones working to obtain FCC licenses composed the club. The "South High Hams" worked at arranging times to get on the air, and Thursday evenings several members met on an assigned frequency and communicated. The club has a transmitter and receivers.

Depending upon what license the boys applied for, they had to know some theory about radio and electronics. Code proficiency was also needed to obtain a license.

EXCHANGING ideas, Coach Elmer Carpenter, Mr. C. E. Strange and Evan Johnson (North High), John Morton, and Coach Glen Browne discuss the club's purpose.

Directing affairs of Lettermen's Club were John Morton, president; Mike MacMurray, vice president; Dean Stewart, secretary; Mike Young, treasurer; and Morris Birch, sergeant of arms. Mr. Glen Browne, WHSS Athletic Director; and Mr. Elmer Carpenter, football coach; sponsored the group.

Activities included arranging a sportsmanship dance with Wichita Heights during basketball season, selling basketball pencils, organizing a group to sit together at athletic functions, buying a base and stand for the Colonel victory bell, a picnic in the spring, buying pennants of the other league schools for the gym, and having an athletic banquet at the end of the year for lettermen and their families.

Learn to "Handle with Care"

Successful Junior Red Cross fund drive for the benefit of crippled children started the year's activities. Monthly visits to a care home, with special gifts at Christmas provided outside interests. A program for entertainment of patients at McConnell base hospital in March rounded out the year.

Proper use and care of a camera supplied the main subjects for discussion at Camera Club meetings. Cooperation with other camera clubs of the area, especially those of other schools, furnished wider areas of interest. Requirement for membership was ownership of an adjustable-lens camera.

Learning safety factors of the rifle, and how to handle guns proved the main objectives of Rifle Club. First semester was spent in painting and renovating a range, which is located in the cellars under the auditorium. Shooting matches were held with Wellington Rifle Club and with Explorer Scout troops in the National Guard Armory.

Efforts Pay Off

Members of Quill and Scroll are selected on the basis of scholastic achievement and outstanding work in some phase of journalism. Charter members are Judith Cowdrey, SOUTHERNER editor; and Davena Rigel, SABRE co-editor. A gold pin and subscription to the club's magazine were included with membership.

Silence reigned during Chess Club meetings, where the fate of Kings and their royal courts depended on a move. Recreation was the chief objective of the club, but a fruitful bonus appeared in the form of improved ability to concentrate.

Devotion for the stage with its excitement, work, and rewards characterized members of National Thespians. Requirements for membership included twelve points to be earned either in the cast or crew of productions. South High Thespians composed Troop No. 182 of the international organization.

Debate Squad

Initiates Invitational Tourney

Fine art of persuasion has been well learned by members of National Forensic League. Twenty-five points earned through participation in tournaments and oratory contests are requirements for membership.

South High, for the first time in Wichita, hosted an invitational debate tournament, held January 12 and 13. Sixty 4-man teams representing 32 Kansas high schools took over halls and classrooms during the two days to compete in a six-round duel of interscholastic debating.

Among other activities were participation in 12 invitational tournaments, exhibition debates before television classes and local service groups, and lending a helping hand in the American Legion Oratory Contest held January 22.

Rounding out the year, this busy group competed in the Wichita University and Emporia speech festivals.

"Good sportsmanship is brought about by honest rivalry with keen competition, courteous relations with loyal school spirit, and graceful acceptance of results.

We, as students of Wichita High School South, recognize these qualities and strive to apply them while competing with others."

Such is the motto of WHSS athletes and student body, by which they strive to guide their words and actions in competitive sports events

Behind these games, however, spreads the great field of intramural sports, in which all students enrolled in gym classes profit by daily workouts. Through group activities and individual effort, boys and girls learn social living, emotional stability, and appreciation and understanding of the body to keep it healthy and strong.

Under the guidance of Athletic Director Coach Glen Browne, ten highly trained staff members adjust the physical education curriculum to meet the needs of the South High student body. With South's facilities and staff, the Colonels have the opportunity to grow in many phases of physical development.

Rebel Rousers

Rally School Spirit

Rebel Rousers, including over 250 girls, sponsored Hobo Hoedown early in the fall, and the homecoming dance, "Football Follies." Pep Club elected the homecoming king, and Lettermen's Club elected the queen.

Two smorgasbords in South's cafeteria gave the pep clubbers an opportunity to show other pep clubs southern hospitality. Menu before the games consisted of potato salad, baked beans, southern fried chicken, relish dishes, and brownies.

Blue and red pom poms were sold to make extra money for out-of-town bus trips to Winfield and Wellington. Buses were also taken to in-town games at the field house, so it would be more convenient for pep clubbers to go to games.

Sponsors for the Rebel Rousers were Miss Mary Lou Conyers, Mr. Thomas Martin, Mr. Ralph Phillips, and Mrs. Sandra Shepoiser. Officers were Cathy Ferguson, president; Sandy Hamm, vice-president; Jeanette Dill, secretary; and Linda Turney, treasurer.

"GIVE US AN S-" shout the varsity cheerleaders Mary Jean Valverde, Sonya Wright, Bobbie Sue Caffrey (Head Cheerleader), Mary Lou Pond, Beverly Richardson, and Kittye McIntire.

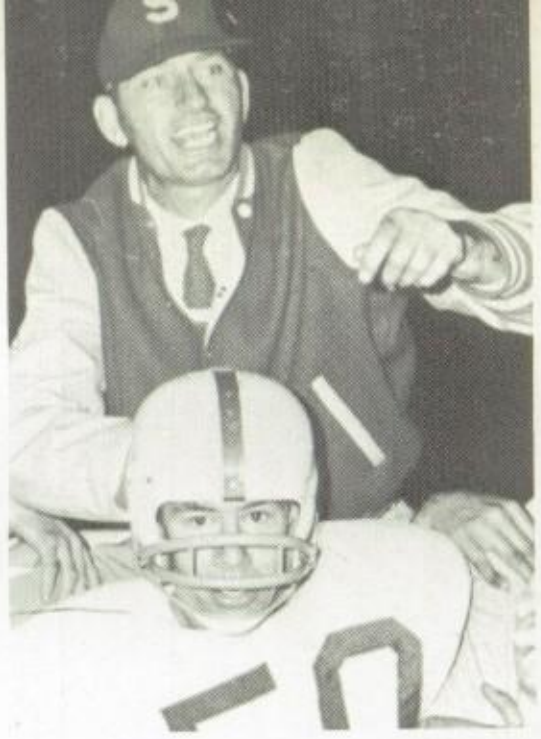
SOUTH'S COACHES Floyd Farmer, Kenneth Spicher, Ralph Brumback, Emil Harr, and Elmer Carpenter, head football coach, look over the plantation.



"VICTORY" was the excited cry that arose from Colonels as they hoisted Coach Elmer Carpenter to their shoulders after the smashing victory over Emporia.

Varsity Squad Completes Season with Impressive Tie

South's Rebels chalked up their best football record since the school opened, as they rounded out the year with a 2-5-2 won-lost record.

The Colonels just couldn't get rolling until too late in the season, and by the time they got started, the season was over.

Sophomore fullback Eddie Fuller led the Colonels in their cause as he carried a 5.7 rushing average with 619 total yards and smashed over for 39 points.

Extra points seemed hard to get all season, but the first game ended in a 12-12 deadlock with the Winfield Vikings, for lack of an extra point.

Ark City roared back from an opening defeat to West, to romp over the humble Colonels 26-6. North then continued what Ark City started by crushing the Colonels 34-6 in their initial league battle.

Dixie spirit ebbed away as Wellington's Crusaders took a heart-breaker from the Colonels, 7-0. But the Southerners bounced back to trounce Emporia 68-19 as the Dixiemen could do no wrong.

The second league loss was then handed to the Rebs as West repelled the Colonels 34-19.

Campus was the next victim to fall, as they marched into the Rebel camp only to be carried out after absorbing a smashing 47-6 loss.

Although the odds were stacked heavily against the Dixie eleven in their last two games with East and Southeast, the Rebs went against all odds, picked up steam, and played the type of football they were capable of playing. It was a rainy night in November that the Colonels met the Aces, and came within two minutes of handing the Big Blue their third defeat of the season. East came from a 7-0 deficit in the last two minutes to tie the score. As the Colonels went for the win, East intercepted a pass and continued on to stop the Colonels 14-7.

However, the Scarlet and Blue were not to be turned back. They charged onto Southeast's battlefield and fought to a 12-12 deadlock with the city champs.

Tri-captains Odus Isaacs, Mike MacMurray, and Ricky Elmore were among 30 lettermen, 16 of whom were seniors.

Dean Stewart, senior end, and Eddie Fuller, sophomore fullback, were named to the second team All-City Squad.

PREPARING to catch a pass, end Morris Birch gets set to receive the football.

PRACTICE pays off for Ricky Elmore as he dodges opposing team members.

TWO heads are better than one, as Eddie Fuller was caught in this ususual shot, in the South-Campus tilt.

END Dean Stewart applied Colonel-type tackle to a North redskin.

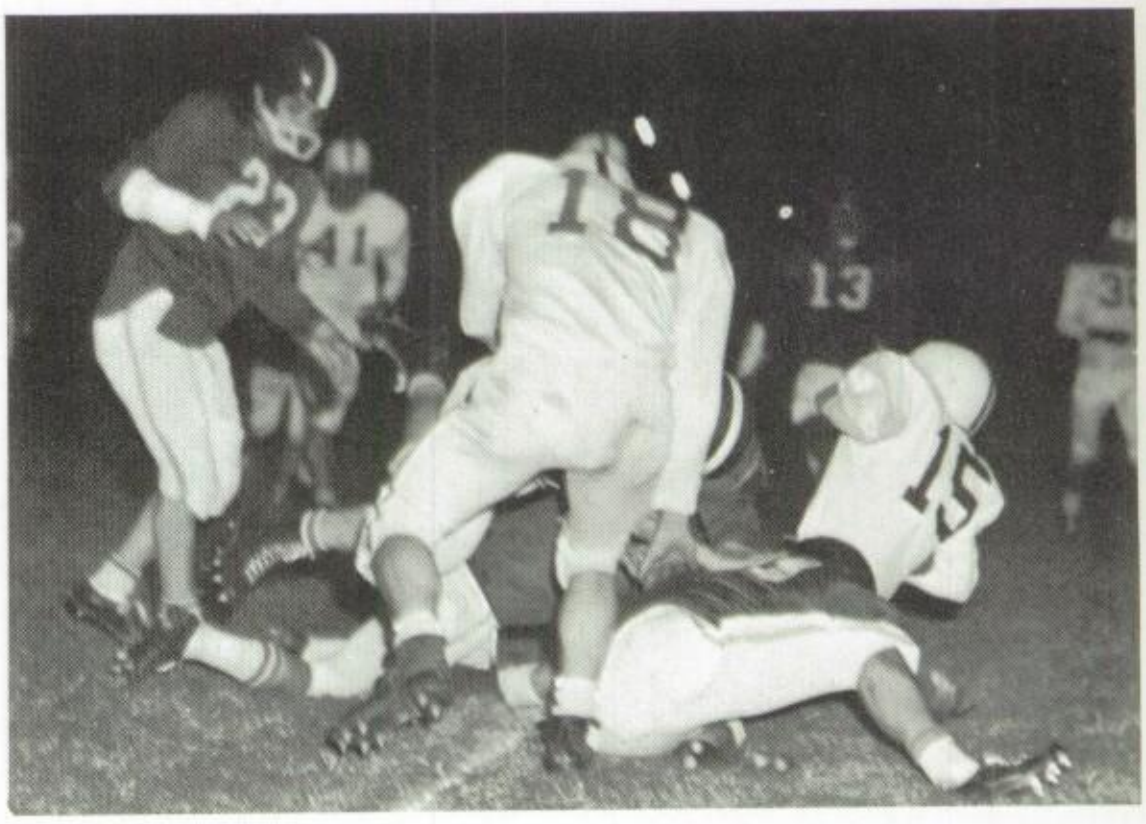
HITTING the dirt, fullback Eddie Fuller chalks up an extra point in the Emporia game as Keith Rucas (15) provides a fine block.

DIRT flew as Reb halfback Mike Foster (20) was brought to the turf in action with Emporia.

ADVICE was offered to Eddie Fuller by Coach Elmer Carpenter in the rain-soaked South-East battle.

Unifies Skills in Playing

STRETCHING to secure the football, Gary Ruedebusch (19) jumps high for a pass in the Wellington game.



MIX-UP in a non-league battle resulted in Keith Rucas (15) being downed.

DETERMINATION enabled Mike Foster to forge ahead of all obstacles and make this touchdown.

SURROUNDED by Winfield players, Lester Unrein still managed to make a touchdown.

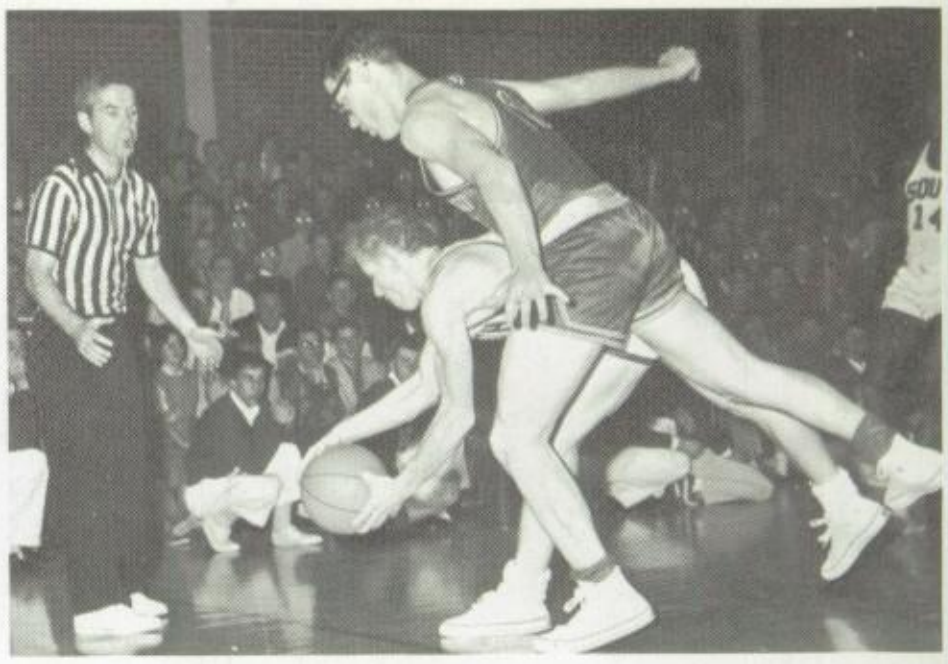
FIGHTING was fast and furious for Bob Laymon, and Rick Elmore was waiting when the play came his way.



A SURPRISED Kapaun man flies past Keith Rucas as he stops short of the sideline.

Compile Record Wins

A determined Rebel team surged through basketball season with many hardships. Early in the season, senior forward Odus Isaacs was lost from service with a broken jaw. Senior Weldon Abram, one of the city's top scorers and a major rebounder and shooter, moved to California just before the crucial season came to a close.

South chalked up seventeen wins with only four losses to complete the season in second place. In city contentions, the Dixiemen were also second, but they weren't alone as North notched an identical 5-3 record.

Of the four losses the Rebs suffered, three were at the hand of the East Aces, and number four was to North.

Keith Rucas was unanimously elected team captain at the end of the year. He also was selected to the All-City first basketball team. Ken Brown, Bruce Pitts, and Weldon Abram received honorable mention.

Colonels who lettered in basketball this year were seniors Keith Rucas, Bruce Pitts, Bob Laymon, Odus Isaacs, Rick Elmore, Weldon Abram, and Allen Brown; juniors Ken Brown and Terry Reeves; and sophomore Bob Herman.

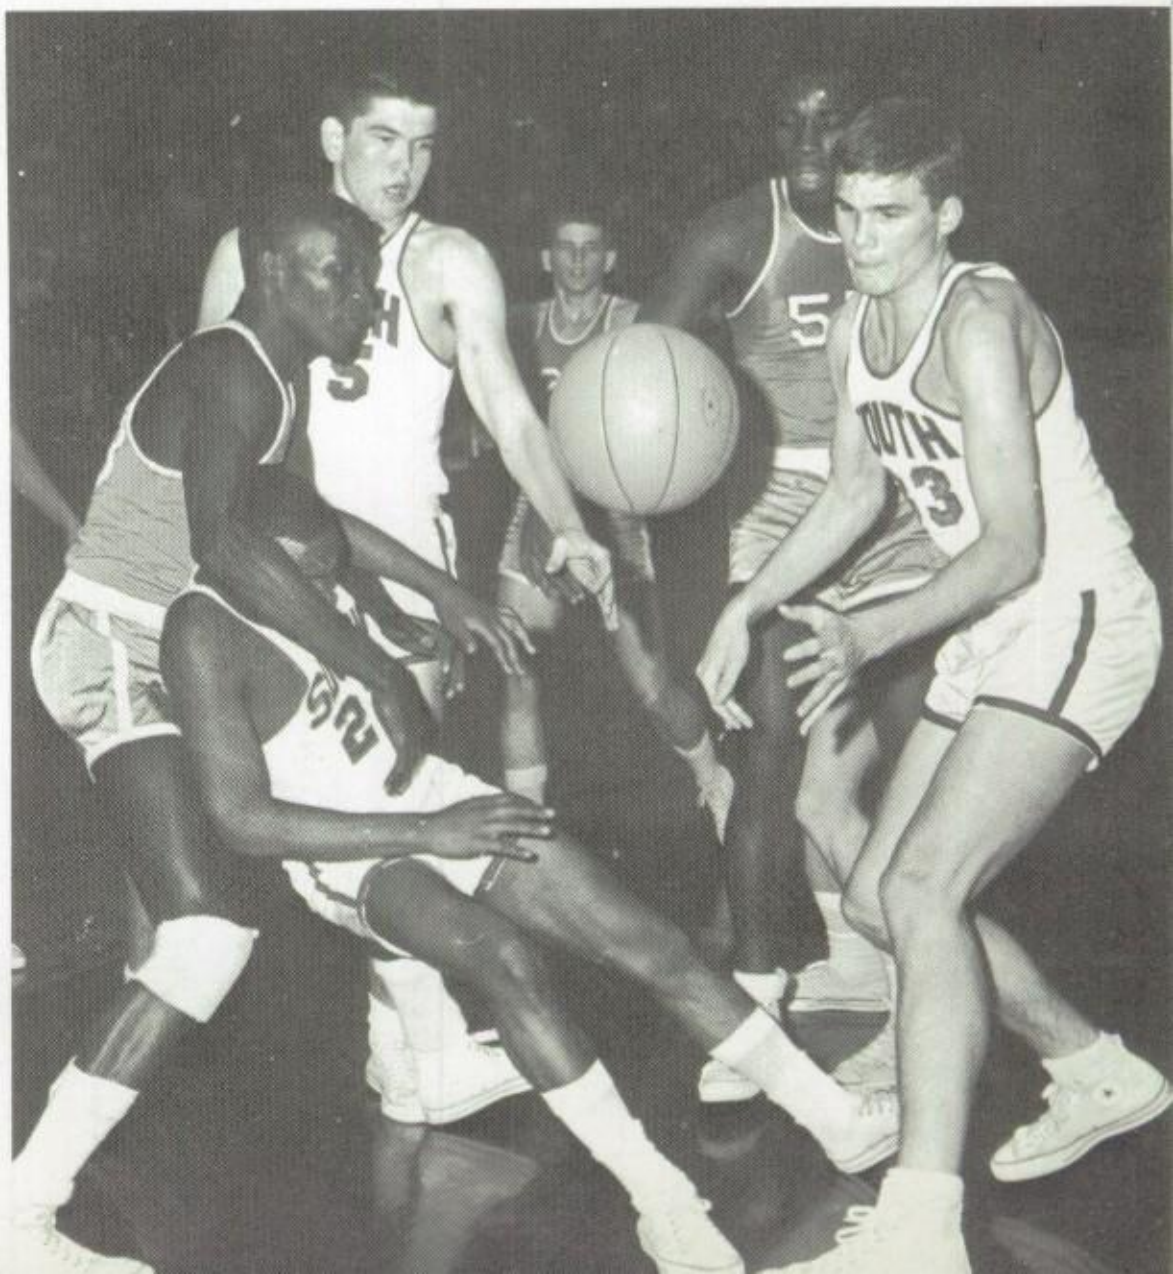
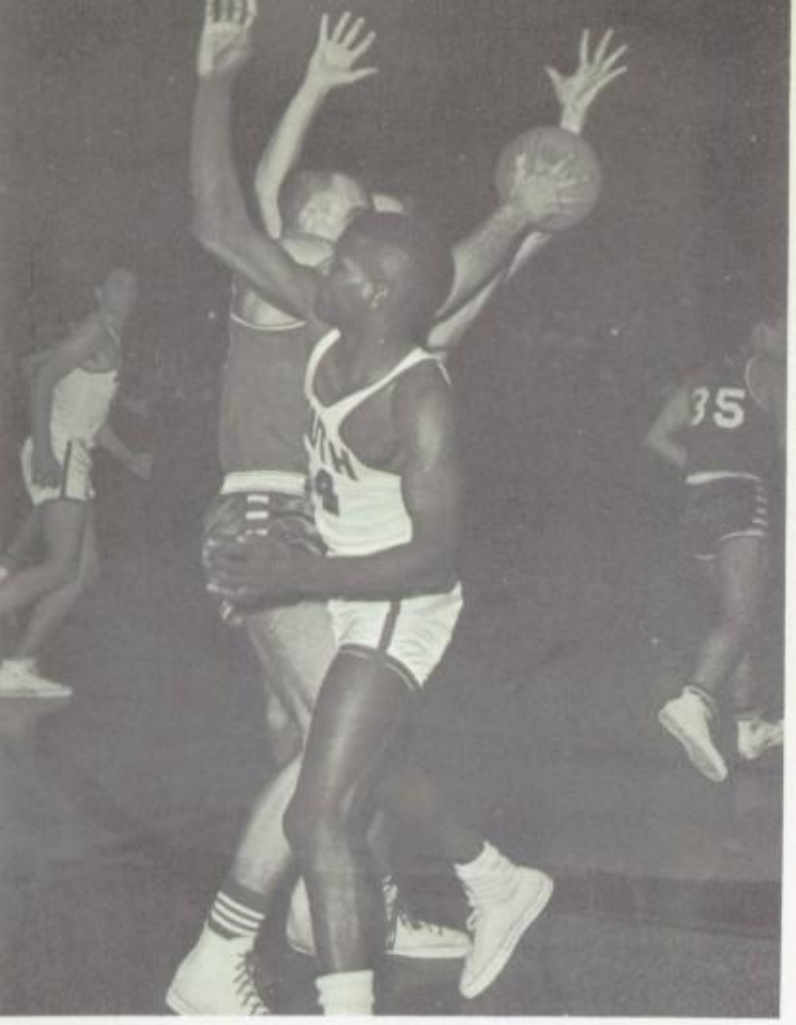
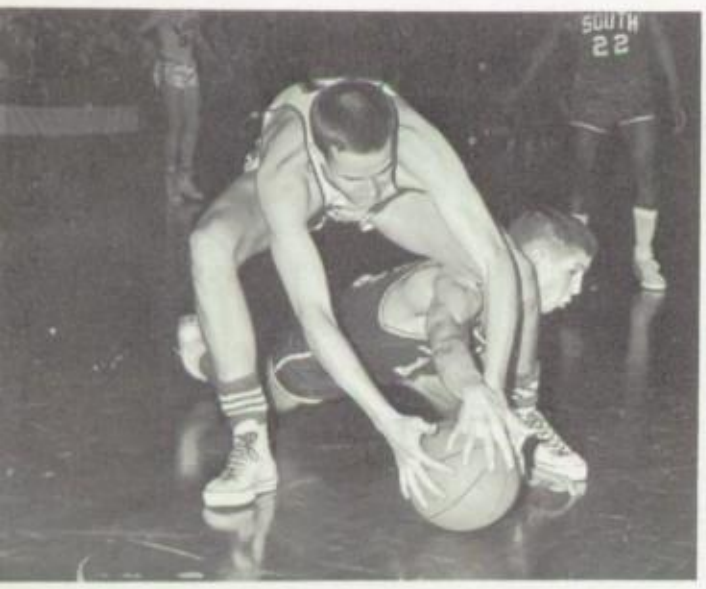
GRAVITY seems to be defied as the basketball is suspended in mid air among several players in the East-South tilt. Weldon Abram (22), Bob Herman (45), and Ken Brown (33) watch in awe.





HANDS went up as Rick Elmore tried to grasp the ball. The ball went to North, but the victory went to the Rebs.



DIVING under a North player enabled Bruce Pitts to get one hand on the ball in action at the Forum.

SCRAMBLING for a loose ball found Weldon Abram surrounded by Wichita Heights players.

TANGLED arms resulted in a jump ball in a city league tilt with West. Bob Laymon (21) and Bob Herman (middle) are Rebs involved.

Blazes Eighth in State

SEASON SUMMARY

Underclassmen dominated Coach Kenneth Spicer's balanced wrestlers this year, only four were seniors. Despite this fact the Rebs held their own throughout the year, winning eighth in the state. Junior Dan Meador blazed the trail going undefeated during the regular season only to lose a close 4-3 decision in finals for the 145-lb. state championship. Sophomore George Dennis advanced to the semi-final round before dropping a 5-3 match to East.

UP AND OVER went sophomore Jim Askins in state diving competition. This was one dive which helped Jim to eliminate other contenders.

Varsity Finmen

Splash in Practice and Competition

Victories came hard for the Reb finmen as they could register only two wins against five defeats. Wins were at the expense of Wichita Heights twice, once in a dual meet and then again in a triangular meet with the colts.

One bright spot remains, and that is the brilliant performance of sophomore Jim Askins who mopped up in state diving competition, grasping a gold first place medal, while brother Doug Askins, defending state diving champ, managed a third place.

Six out of Nine of the lettermen will return next year to push the Reb swimmers to new heights. Lettermen were Doug Askins, David Casey, and Dean Stewart, Seniors; Dave Neary, and Roland Young, juniors; and Jim Askins, Leslie Burns, Harold Ragland, and Steve Worford, sophomores.

PERFECT split helped Johnnye Appleton to take state in Free Exercise.

Varsity Gymnasts

Record Rousing Victories

Hard work and determination paid off in a city league championship as South's finest gymnastics team surged by opponents easily.

The Rebs crushed their first opponent, West, 48-6, and romped Southeast, 38 5/6-15 1/6; North, 49-5; East, 28-26; then made the rounds again past West, 37-17; Southeast, 36-18; East, 30½-23½; and North, 39½-14½.

Johnnye Appleton sparked Coach Floyd Farmer's gymnasts by clinching firsts in Free Exercise and Tumbling in every meet, including the state meet. Kenny Mosteller repeated as state champion this year as he swept competition on the still rings. Lyle Houpt tied for second in the state on the high bar. John Krug won third on the horse, and Bob Barnard accounted for fourth place on the parallel bars.

Tom Hall and Danny Gifford placed fifth in Tumbling and Free Exercise, respectively, as South grasped second place in the State Gymnastics Meet behind defending champion Lawrence.

Earn Letters for Extra-Curricular Sports

After-school sessions of tennis, bowling, basketball, volleyball, modern dance, recreational swimming, individual net games, softball, mermaids, track and field, golf, and archery complete the various intra-mural sports attended by girls who earned 100 points. Corresponding to the seasons, the intra-mural activities took place during a regular nine week schedule.

Additional equipment and supplies for the girls' physical education department were purchased with funds raised from the three Co-Rec nights sponsored by the Colonelettes.

South hosted Campus, East, North, Southeast and West at a volleyball Sports Day held in the girl's gym in November.

Two first places were taken in other Sports Days attended by the Colonelettes. These activities included hockey and volleyball.

Officers of Colonelettes were Connie Sims, president; Javene Moore, vice president; Esther Riggs, secretary-treasurer; Julia Waddles, publicity chairman; and Sandy White, intra-mural manager.

CLIMBING ropes helped round out the activities of Colonelettes.

Others that have helped

Nina,
It's been knowing real nice knowing
you. I hope you have much luck in the future. You're a swell girl & I know you'll go far. The best of luck.
Bobbie

Nina,
It has been a real pleasure knowing you.
Wish I had become acquainted with that
"curiosity seeking" mind
of yours sooner.
Lots of the best in everything you undertake. Come back &
see us!

Sabre Signing Party

Climaxes Eventful Year

REACHING THE end of the line, Linda Turney anxiously receives her Sabre as Nicki Morley and Larry Peer watch.

COLONELS find the last few minutes of waiting makes the Sabre line move drastically slow. (Below) EXCHANGING autographs and looking at the Sabres, Colonels discover the busy evening ending too quickly.

USING the cantata "The Song of Easter" the Vocal Music Department under the direction of Miss Christa Fisher, presented their annual Easter Vespers.

Spring Finales

Add Touches To Southern Scene

PREPARING for the "Fireman's Flame", Cheryl Wood and Suzanne Clark inspect the costumes.

STUDENT Commencement speakers, Larry Puckett and Rose Ann Benton talk with Dr. Pyles before giving their speeches.

GATHERING in the windy courtyard, graduating Colonels begin to line up before the Baccalaurate Service.

Coloneland Traditions

Continue To Flourish

JUNIOR-SENIOR girls breakfast at the Pancake House was enjoyed by Virginia Shockey, Jamie Langton, Kathy Anderson, Paulette Childs, Deanna Fechner, and Bernice Crain.

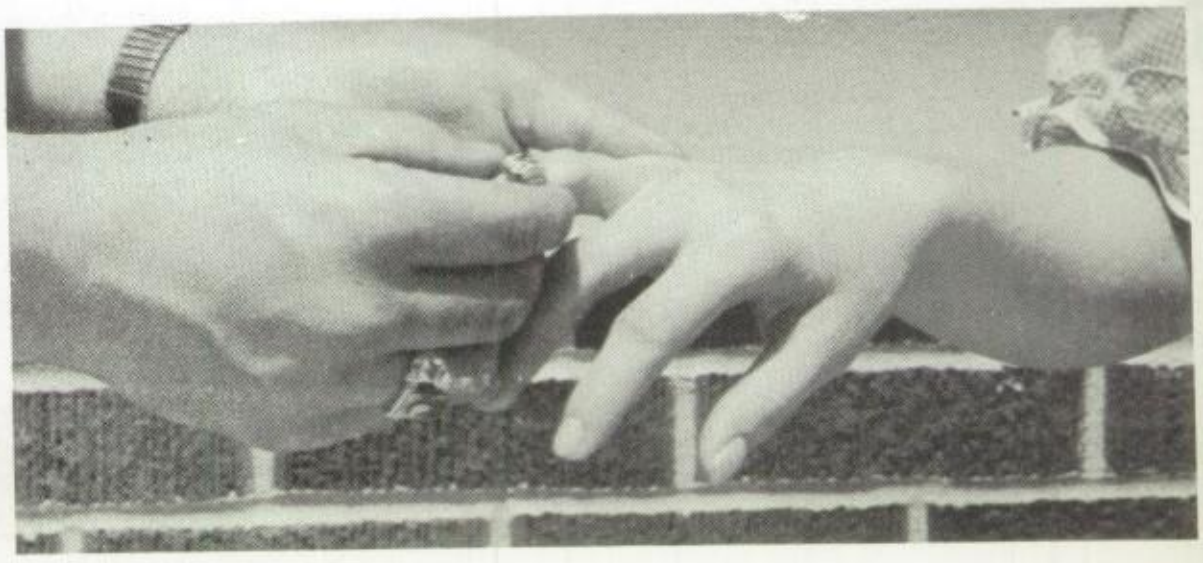
MARDI GRAS time calls for use of the pool, and Dr. Lauterbach ends up on the receiving part of the Future Teachers Booth to get soaked.

ENDING of a Marriage Booth ceremony proved to be a favorite event for Mardi Grasers, including Johnnye Appleton and Bernice Crain.

TRICYCLING about the Mardi Gras as telegram messenger Pam Reichenbach hunts for victims.

SPENDING time in the Tijuana Jail were many Colonels including Dr. Pyles, Ronnie Chebultz, and Phil Schepis.

TURNING of Junior rings by Seniors marked another tradition carried on by the Class of '62.



ART-minded Ruth Arterburn concentrates on an ink drawing, using her talents to make creative art.

UNDERCLASSMEN anxiously await their turns to cast votes for class and student government officers.

South High Rebs

Share In Variety of Activities

CROWDING into the "G" hall phone booth were seniors Bruce Pitts, Dick Allen, and Tommy Thomson; junior Kathy Anderson finds it amusing to watch.

HOPING her efforts in poster painting will be profitable in the election, junior Ann Ferguson looks wonderingly at her work.

ADMIRING a reminder of the long lost but not forgotten book "1984". senior Dick Teeter studies the artwork on the electrical "tombstone."

MANY students purchased pictures of fellow Colonels and Coloneland activities from the end of the year Journalism picture sale.

Senior Banquet And Prom

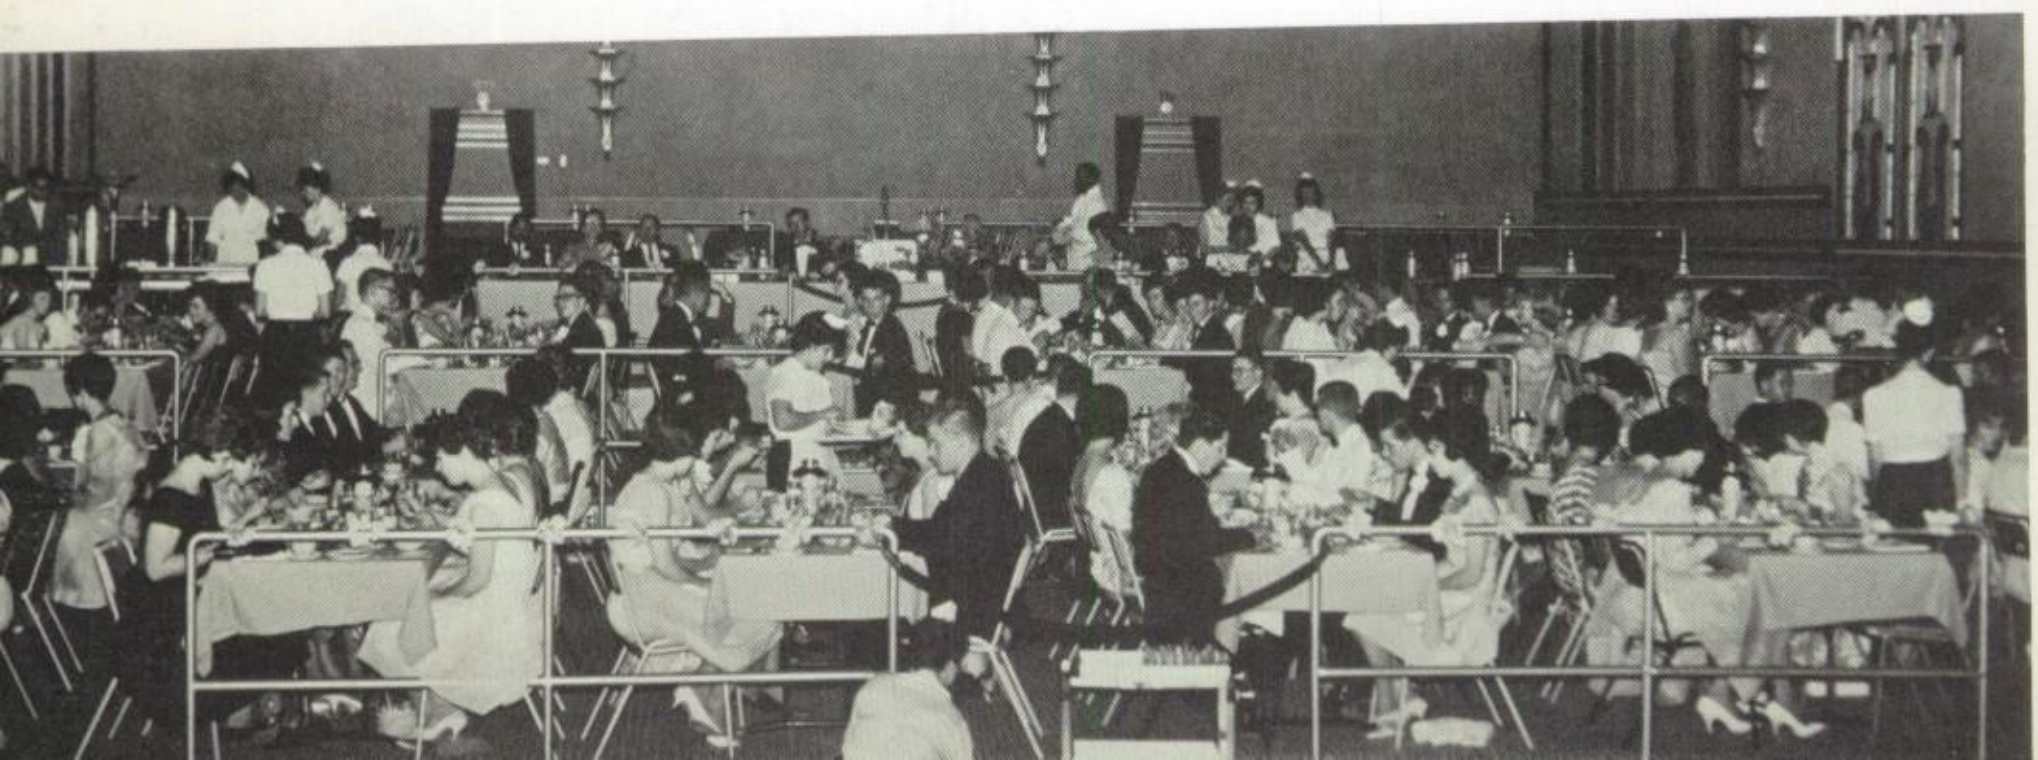
Named "Gone With The Wind"

The Class of '62 enjoyed their final social event by gathering at the Civic Playhouse for the Senior Banquet and Prom. The atmosphere of a Southern plantation was enhanced by a stage backdrop of a sketched plantation; table decorations were also an addition, consisting of pastel magnolias, fern, and miniature fans. Dr. Pyles and two class members gave short inspiring messages to the guests. Fred Bonner and his band provided the music for the seniors and their dates at the Prom.

REIGNING royally over the Senior Prom were King James Wright and Queen Beverly Jones.

VOCAL selections by senior choir members added to the evenings entertainment.

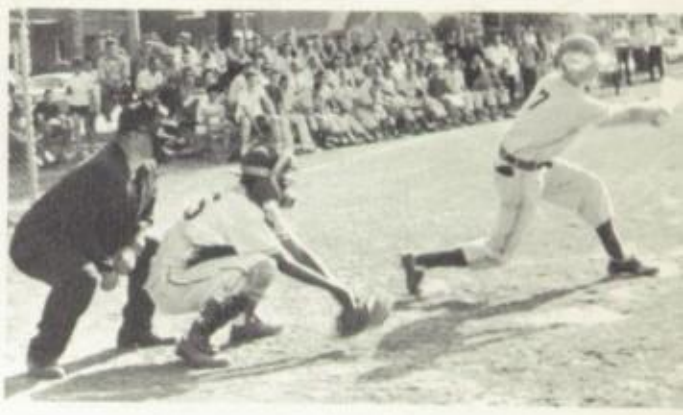
MEMBERS of the Class of '62 filled the Civic Playhouse for the Senior Banquet.



DETERMINED third baseman Bruce Pitts gets the ball home in time.

CATCHING the final ball for Kapaun's Dee Cartwright is Colonel Ron Johnson.

SWINGING senior Keith Rucas, tips the ball for a strike.



Baseball Squad

Merges Efforts in Play

South's 1962 baseballers opened the season to the tune of a 6-3 victory over North, but the tune went flat as Southeast slipped by 4-3. The Colonels then notched a 5-7 season record to match last years identically.

Hitting and pitching seemed to be the major problems for Coach Kenneth Spicer's Dixiemen. Only Keith Rucas and Bruce Pitts were able to break the .300 mark, with Rucas notching .387 and Pitts a .333 batting average. The pitching was left on the shoulders of only two, Tony Sage and Bill Burford; Tony hurled his way to three wins with five losses, Bill kept his record even, two wins and two defeats. The Colonels then perked up to hand West a 6-4 loss only to drop their next two tests to Kapaun 1-2 and East 0-4.

The second round tests found the Reb nine sweeping wins from North 4-2, and Kapaun 4-2, and falling prey to West 1-9, Southeast 1-6, and East 1-4.

Wichita Heights found themselves on the short end of a 12-6 verdict as South swept their first Regional contest. Kapaun however, was not impressed by the Reb's first round victory and eliminated the Colonels 2-5.

Improvement was the word best describing South's cindermen as Coach Floyd Farmer's thinclads compiled the best record in South's three year history. The Colonels placed in the upper five teams at each of the team's regular six meets, with twelve teams competing at each.

The thinclads placed fourth in the City Meet, although they showed the greatest winning strength, taking five first places. All three relays were won by the Colonels, and sprinter John Morton captured the 440 yard and 220 yard dashes for the Rebs.

Placing an extremely close third at the Regional Meet, the tracksters then sent eleven representatives to the State Meet at Manhattan. At the State Meet, John Morton became the first Reb cinderman to place in an individual event as he finished second in the 440 yard dash with the time of 49.4 seconds, breaking the school record of 50.0 seconds which he previously set. The mile relay team, Mike Davis, Dean Stewart, Mike MacMurray, and Eddie Fuller placed third, enabling the Colonels to score seven points and finish twelfth out of thirty-one schools.

BATON in hand, Terry Thole rounds the last turn as he anchors the medley relay.

PRACTICING began early in the year for these lettermen, Dean Stewart, Pete Brown, Mike Foster, Mike MacMurray, Phil Schepis, Terry Thole, and John Morton.

Tennis Squad

Duplicates City Rating

Colonel netmen finished with a 2-5 season record while placing fourth in the city competition for the third straight year. Rebel "racketeers" began the season with defeats by Southeast 6-3, North 6-3, and East 5-4, then claiming their first win from West 8-1. In the return round the net crew received defeats from North 5-4, Southeast 8-1, and East 8-1, and again downing West 7-2.

Season lettermen were Lin Harris, receiving his third letter, Dick Teeter, Sam Jordan, and Nyman Rakes, receiving their second, and Terry Reeves and Mike Paugh receiving their first letters. Lin Harris, Captain and Dick Teeter, Co-captain, led the squad for the 1962 season.

Colonel linksmen opened their season with a 53½-24½ loss to Southeast, then dropped a 54½ - 23½ contest to North. West rose above South in a 48-30 victory, as did East 52½-25½. During the second round, the Rebs declined to Southeast 57-21, North 53½-24½, West 47-31 and East 54-24. The Southerners ended their third year with an 0-8 record.

The golfers participated in the Regionals at MacDonald Park in Wichita.

The leading Colonels were junior Don Atchinson who notched 72½ letter points, and Larry Puckett, senior, running second with 43 letter points.
